ASK YOUR LIBRARIAN FOR

BELGRADE, The White City of Death.

By Mrs. NORTHESK WILSON.

THE BOOK OF THE MOMENT.

33 Beautiful Illustrations from Photographs. Demy 8vo, 10/6 net.

FIRST REVIEWS:

"It contains, no doubt, a good deal that is new, and a certain amount of truth. . . . It almost makes a drama of death as it stands. The evidence of the clairvoyant's prophecy of the assassination has been fully examined by the experts of the Psychical Research Society."—Daily Chronicle.

"A terrible tragedy such as that so recently enacted in the Royal Palace at Belgrade will not readily pass out of mind, but this volume has evidently been written on the principle that there is nothing like 'striking while the iron is hot.' . . . . In other words, Russia is accused of scheming for the marriage of Draga as a certain means of getting rid of the last of the Obrenovitch dynasty. Here the writer certainly does not mince her language, whatever may be the actual basis for her sweeping accusations . . . . A most valuable feature of the volume is its fine collection of portraits of Royal personages and other notabilities."—Scotsman.

"The moment when the attention of Europe is concentrated on the Balkan Peninsula, is fitly chosen for the publication of the first detailed account of the late tragedy at Belgrade. The event is still fresh in our memories: the issue of the settlement remains uncertain, and Servian politics now form an episode in the great drama of the Near East. . . . . This is a picturesque and vigorous record of the rival dynasties of the Karageorges and the Obrenovitch. Without pretending to dwell on the details of each reign, it picks out some of the salient points, and presents them as a series of dramatic incidents leading to an inevitable conclusion. It is a timely book, vigorously conceived, and admirably printed and illustrated."—Daily News.

"Apart from minor details, which it is not necessary to go into, the most important point in Mrs. Wilson's account is the charge which she brings against Russia of having been at the bottom of the conspiracy. The case, as stated by her, is that Russia, knowing the political leanings of the Pretender, Peter Karageorgevitch was anxious to "wipe out the Obrenovitch for ever," and that believing "the doom of the Obrenovitch would be sealed" if Draga, instead of remaining the King's mistress became his Queen, she intrigued to bring this fatal consummation about."—Glasgow Herald.

The only complete statement on the subject and recognized as the authoritative treatise.

THE SPECTATOR.—"This is an almost ideal book for any person. . . We know of no more complete or convincing statement against the policy now being put forward in Mr. Chamberlain's name than is to be found in the thirty pages of this chapter. . . ATHENÆUM.—"An excellent account both of the history and of the present circumstances of British Free Trade."

LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW.—"A thoroughly informed, well-written, and impartial estimate of the history, the principle, and the effects of Free Exchange."

A Play CRŒSUS, For Boys.

This play is an attempt to familiarise school pupils, who may have neither time nor talent to read Herodotus in the original, with one of the finest and most typical of the old Greek stories. It may be given on the simplest or the most elaborate lines, according to the wealth of the school, or the time that schoolmasters choose to spend upon it. A careful study of the words and idea are alone essential. But Cræsus, with its simple and dignified language, and its noble morality is meant as seriously, and might be used as profitably as one of the moralities or miracles.

Nine Parts (besides soldiers, &c.). No Women. About one hour and a half to act.

New volume in CARPET PLAYS. Each 6d. net.

Also Plays for Girls' Schools and Kindergartens.

"PICTURES IN PARLIAMENT."

The Most Vivid Record of Parliamentary Life. (By H. W. M.)

POLITICIANS OF ALL SCHOOLS SHOULD READ THE DAILY NEWS.

It is the NATIONAL ORGAN of LIBERAL OPINION, but its news columns fairly reflect all shades of Political thought.

As in the days of its first Editor, Charles Dickens, the "Daily News" is the leading advocate of SOCIAL REFORM. It is for the PEOPLE against PRIVILEGE, for the MUNICIPALITY against the MONOPOLIST.

Its reports are the fullest, its leaders the most trenchant, its policy least trammelled by selfish considerations.

Municipal Affairs are a Special Feature of the "Daily News."

Land Reform, Licensing Reform, the Housing Problem, Old Age Pensions, and similar instruments for raising the Life of the People to a Higher Plane are constantly advocated.

The "Daily News" is not only a great Political Teacher. It is the FIRST of ENGLISH NEWSPAPERS—the fullest, completest, and best. Every aspect of Life—Literature, Music, Art, Drama, Finance, Sport, Science, &c.—is fully dealt with by Specialists.
